Business Manager Dabney Proves Valuable Witness for Annexation.

HOMES FOR WORKINGMEN

Congestion of City Causes High Rate of Rents, and Has Kept Big Manufacturers From Bringing Plants Here.

Proceedings in the annexation case, now being heard before Judge A. A. Campbell, in the Henrico County Circuit Court, made rapid progress yesterday, and much of the evidence proved of unusual interest. One of the principal developments of the day was the announcement that the various townships in the proposed district which will be submitted to the court, and which call for annexation with Richmond upon the terms agreed upon by attorneys. The fact that Henrico is now the only opponent of annexation, and that all of the suburban towns are anxious for the city's proposed program to be followed, has weakened the county's fight, but even more discouraging to the annexationists was the fact that Henrico has endeavored to have a large slice of that section left out of the annexed territory.

More witnesses were heard yesterday, and more matter of real importance to annexation was brought out than has been the case at any previous day's sitting. Court opened with Chief Health Officer E. C. Levy again on the stand. He was followed by Dr. E. H. Williams, State Health Commissioner; Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, Superintendent of the Richmond Public Schools; Superintendent Trafford, of the City Electrical Department; George L. Dabney, of the Building Inspector's office; John Stewart Bryan, publisher of the News Leader, and William T. Dabney, business manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

NEED FOR NEW FACTORIES

Mr. Dabney, in showing the great need of increased area for the benefit of the workmen so that they may be enabled to secure better and cheaper homes, related the plan for the achievement of this improvement which has been outlined by the Chamber of Commerce, and said that because Richmond was unable adequately to care for its workmen, several manufacturing firms had refused to open plants here. He said that this city is now one of the most congested in the country, and that the fact was clearly demonstrated in the advertisement of back yards of houses, fronting on cross streets, for building purposes.

Even Monument Avenue, recognized as Richmond's most aristocratic and beautiful thoroughfare, is so congested that much of its possible beauty is lost. He said that, whereas other cities possessed streets of this character with two or three handsome residences to a block and large grounds surrounding them, in Richmond the character of the high price demanded for ground, which had resulted in there being from fourteen to eighteen houses to a block.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROLLED BY TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES

Mr. Dabney showed that development was controlled to a large degree by transportation facilities, and that lack of this was responsible for the fact that certain sections already in the city had not been built up and was also responsible for the unequal development of certain sections. He advocated the idea of having corporations, working in conjunction with the City Engineer and other officials, take charge of tracts of land, and, after making city improvements, erecting buildings on them, offer them to the working classes for rental or home-buying purposes. He said such things will cost, without improvement, $2,000 an acre and that the homes built, after city improvements had been made, could be rented for $16.75 a month. He brought out the fact that the rent rates in Richmond are much higher, a condition caused by the scarcity of ground, and that these hindrance to the progress of the city.

MIGHT BE ACCOMPLISHED ON GROUND WHICH

The Chamber of Commerce has for its purpose the furtherance and promotion of industry and commerce in this city. It was particularly interested in these things, Mr. Dabney said, one of the things most essential to city progress was the development of the idea of group centers so that the workmen might be provided healthful, cheap and adequate homes in near proximity to their place of labor. The fact that such were not possible in Richmond has caused the extent, he said, of a large number of these sections are made up of men who work in Richmond. They are able to secure cheaper living there than in the country, and the fact that some sections have grown more rapidly than others is due, he said, to the fact that better transportation facilities are offered than elsewhere. Living is cheaper here than in the country, he said, in spite of the fact that rates on fire insurance, water, gas, telephones and other utilities were higher than in Richmond.

ESTIMATES OF EXPERTS

The witnesses showed that Richmond's growth had far exceeded the estimates of experts who had looked over the ground for certain local enterprises, and that a conservative estimate, based on the growth during the last ten years, placed the population at between 200,000 and 300,000 by 1930. Cross-examined on the part of Attorney Smith failed to weaken his testimony to any appreciable extent.

John Stewart Bryan testified that he had watched the rapid growth of Richmond with interest, and that he felt it was time additional territory should be taken in. He said that he knew the city was badly congested in many sections, and that in 1904 it was the most crowded city for its population in the country, with the possible exception of Hoboken, N. J. He said that as executor of the late Mr. Bryan's estate, he desired to petition the city to annex it. One of the most important points brought out by Mr. Bryan, in reference to the county's attitude toward land owners there, was his statement to the effect that Henrico absolutely refused to care for the roads or even to aid in caring them in that locality. He said that natural development of the city demanded that laboring men be taken in, although it would increase taxes without giving any improvements on the part of the city, he would believe to annexation because he believed the city needed additional territory. He characterized as narrow.

short-sighted and unconstructive. The annexation of 1906, which was limited to increasing the land area of the city by about six square miles at the eastern and western ends.

Mr. Byrne, of the City Building Inspector's office, showed the amount of building now being carried on in Richmond and the valuation of such improvements. Superintendent Trafford, of the City Electrical Department, explained that the electrical facilities of the city were adequate to meet the increased demand.

GREAT ADVANTAGES OF CITY SCHOOL SYSTEM

Dr. Chandler explained the many advantages of throwing open to residents of the suburbs the school facilities of the city, and said that there were many persons working in Richmond but living in the suburbs who annually paid $12 tuition in order that their children might enjoy the advantages of the John Marshall High School. He further brought out the recent improvements made in the school system and the large sums being expended in this work. Both Dr. Williams and Dr. Levy showed the advantages which adequate health inspection would be to the community, and showed that the Richmond Health Department was highly developed. Dr. Williams said that the Henrico Health Department was as good as most county departments, but that the small salaries which it was able to pay reacted against it.

LYNCHBURG DEMOCRATS ELECT MUNICIPAL TICKET

For First Time in More Than a Decade Majority Party Wins

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Lynchburg, Va., June 9.—The Democrats today for the first time in more than a decade had opposition in the municipal election, but the ticket nominated in April by primary selection was elected. The new Councilmen being elected were: John D. Ogleby, Dr. James Morrison, William King and Dr. John W. Clark for the Board of Aldermen; and John W. Woodson, E. E. Menefee, John Victor, Edward P. Sheffield, John L. Baber, Thomas J. Williams and E. Goodenough for the Common Council.

CITIZENS' PARTY MAKES GAINS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Norfolk, Va., June 9.—The Citizens' party captured twenty-four contests in today's elections, and named their candidate for the Board of Control. The total vote throughout the city was 5,919, about 1,400 less than was cast in the contest last fall, involving a bitter fight on the part of the Citizens' party and the local "organization" forces.

It is indicated that the organization retains control of the aldermanic body and the common branch by a margin of one vote in each section of the Councils, but it is expected that on many close votes this will not be invariably true, because there are members of the lower branch with independent tendencies, and Citizens' party leaders declare they will have control in joint session.

For the first time in many years James V. Trechy did not figure in a local election contest. Mr. Trechy announced publicly a little while ago that he had retired from politics.

Light Vote in Roanoke

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Roanoke, Va., June 9.—One-half of the City Council was elected today, but the vote was 1,000, and the light vote here in general. In two wards the Democratic nominees were in opposition, but in Melrose and Kimball Republicans were in the field, and one was elected in each ward. The ward of William Murphy, for the Board of ALDERMEN in Kimball had no opposition. The Councilmen elected were: Thomas O'Connor, Democrat; J. Seibert, Democrat; and J. S. Pottie, Republican. J. H. St. Clair, Republican, for years a member of the Council, was defeated, along with M. L. Fringer, Democrat, in Melrose. H. B. Haynes and S. O. Porter, Democrats, were elected to the Board, defeating E. V. Crump, Acker, W. W. Whitcomb, W. L. Johnson, Democrat, and D. A. Parroch, Republican, who were elected to Council. M. O. Lockhart, Democrat, was defeated.

Charge False Pretense

H. E. Lipscomb, a farmer, was arrested in King William County yesterday at the request of the Richmond Police. He is alleged to have obtained $120 from Joseph Lassiter, of 1806 East Franklin street, and $34 from the Southern Hardware Company by false pretense. Lipscomb is said to have given worthless checks for these sums. He was released under $500 bond in King William for his appearance this morning in Police Court here.
